I love it too much
I pour myself into
Every waking hour on my mind
When I really should ease up, yeah
And quit my daily grinding

I challenge you to see it as a game
See we were born into the struggle
Taught about all the pain

BRIDGE

See that going too hard has left scars
Hasn't got me too far
So I'm changing my mindset
And trying to work less
To see more progress
But it's a process
Slowly opening up to a better way

Cos life's not made to be stressed out

And though I'll never regret

The time and money I spent

I'm finding solace in the knowledge

That progress yeah is inevitable

If you keep your cup full

Progress is inevitable

If you keep your cup full

And you know, yeah

CHORUS 4

See the best things in life come easy, right?

Gonna take my time to make it mine

Because all the best things in life come easy right now

They say the best things in life come easy, right?

Gonna take my time to make it mine

Because all the best things in life come easy right now
